

Little Buddhas Rules

Once the dharma talk ends parents are expected to pick up their children in the dojo, as volunteers are released at 12:30 pm. Parents are therefore responsible for the supervision of their children from 12:30 pm on. We require parents' support in reinforcing the same rules used during the Little Buddhas Program:

1. Be safe. When inside, use walking feet. No running, jumping, throwing things or climbing indoors.
2. Be caring. Use inside voices. This means quiet voices. Use kind words.
3. Be respectful. Listen to adult volunteers and friends.
4. Be responsible. Always ask permission to leave the dojo, and do not wander unsupervised. Help clean up.
5. Be kind. Don't hurt others on the inside or the outside. No pushing, hitting, kicking, biting.
6. When in our Gomba, sit quietly with a parent or an adult.

Helping the children learn temple decorum is very important as it supports a safe, enjoyable, and welcoming atmosphere for all who attend.
